

25-26

BLUE RIBBON

CBBF PREVIEW

FROM THE EDITOR

I created a fake two hour meeting this afternoon in order to get this done. A CBBF season isn't complete without a Blue Ribbon. Thanks to everyone for taking the time to send in all the polls and comments. Should be another great season!

Can Jacob find a way to blow it with five first round keepers? Can Smith and Toppin lead Brent back to the coveted Middle Division? Will all these 33 year old euro imports be awesome? Will Barnett and Walsh beat the odds and tie as champs again!?

Time to find out! Have a great season all!

YOUNG MONEY

- Boozer at #4 overall is a hell of a pick.
- I thought that Cam Boozer would have been the first freshman off the board
- Taris Reed and Anthony Robinson will be great secondary stars to Boozer. .
- Probably going to be solid with some of those middle round picks. I was devastated I didn't get Kohler. Avdalas might be good, but also might be terrible in round 4.
- Had this team lower but the exhibitions with Boozer made me bump them up.
- Boozer's no Flagg, but he doesn't need to be to make all-CBBF
- There's no way that Tarris Reed is going to be a CBBF stud, impossible.
- A great fella but my God have you ever seen a worse fan base then Indiana football fans! I don't feel like looking at his team but i assume playoff team lock! 10 years ago if i were to tell you young bucks that the indiana football coach would make 2x more than the basketball coach you would have told me to go have lunch at a pharmacy!
- Boozer carrying Duke all season and taking a real run at CBBF POY.
- Boozer is a monster and should have gone #1. I'm not sold on the draft but Boozer is going to the playoffs.
- "Bounced Check" - You promised "money moves," but your draft looks like a recession. You have wings, wings, and more wings. Rebounds? None. Guards? Who dat. You drafted like you were doing NBA 2K MyCareer cutscenes. Motto: "Direct deposit pending."
- I think Andrew hit a home run in the draft even before Boozer looked like the next great CBBF star. Loved Avdalas, Robinson and Kohler. Would be a #1 for me if not for some extremely strong keeper classes at the top of the league.

CHAIRMEN OF THE BOARDS

- I was surprised they had confidence in Hubert Davis getting a lot out of Caleb Wilson.
- Always gotta pencil these boys in for a playoff spot now! I think their season will depend on how many guys emerge as stars; a lot of uncertainties there.
- Payne, Krivas, and Awaka went too high for guys that won't get big minutes.
- As much as I love to see the Doster's fail, I liked their draft. They will be a solid team unfortunately. I think Caleb Wilson maybe won't be that good but I'm probably wrong
- Personal investment in this team doing well for Iowa reasons but liked liked the value of many of these picks, especially Pettiford
- The gap between MVC and B1G is much bigger than anticipated. I like Stirtz, but not in the first round
- Serious firepower on the floor, serious egos in the front office.
- Have they wanted Tobe for years or did he start on there team? I don't remember either way 3rd place in the regular season and a 1st round exit
- A Lot riding on Bryce and his faulty legs
- I hate to give the kings of smug credit but they had a great draft. Yigitoglu might be the steal of the draft.
- "The Guard Factory" - Did you think we were doing a point-guard-only league? You could field an entire intramural backcourt rotation. Your rebounding strategy is "hope the ball bounces weird." Motto: "Defense is for people without confidence."
- Thank god they didn't get Yax, that would've been insufferable. I think they'll be good again. Caleb Wilson is a lightning rod that should be fun to discuss at the DYD.

DOLLAR BILL

- I was surprised Haggerty dropped to this pick. Not a lot of high ceiling type draft picks after that point besides De Ridder.
- Taking both Dent and Haggerty is fun because they seem really similar. If both are good, Nick will be in great shape.
- Mick Cronin hasn't had one of the top 200 fastest paced teams since the first George W. Bush term. Have fun with that Dent
- Nick over here drafting pros! #CHEATINASSBARR
- The Dent and Haggerty combo has a massive ceiling but that's obvious -- This team either wins the title or misses the playoffs.
- It feels like Nick might be setting a record for longest title drought. Isn't he supposed to win every 3 years or so?
- Nick is missing a job, a house, and a front line.
- Dent and Haggerty will be good for this team. Coming back to Chicago could be a problem for this franchise.
- Here's to hoping that Mick's system doesn't ruin Dent
- The Champ has returned. CBBF excellence now resides in Pilsen.
- "The Fundamentalists" - Every pick screamed "I read KenPom for leisure." The positional balance is too clean — like you used a drafting compass. Roast: You drafted like a dad making a Costco list. Efficient, flavorless, and slightly depressing. Motto: "Just happy to make the semifinals."
- Dent/Haggerty duo will be great but the front court seems a little thin. Nick having no job currently makes me think this team could go undefeated.

TOP DIVISION

A PEN IS MIGHTIER

- Brock Harding is a terrible basketball player.
- I have our co-champs at the bottom of the rankings. Easy on the freshmen, Walsh!
- This freshmen strategy reminds me of like 2008.
- I like how Walsh has become the ballsiest drafter in the league. He took a ton of shots and I just have no idea. This is a team that could either be amazing or terrible.
- I could be very wrong about this team, but I am super out on DeVries but stand to be corrected! (editor's note - DeVries is on Barnett's team but I believe the sentiment that many think Walsh's draft sucked, but like him and want to see him succeed)
- Freshmen gonna carry the way to the playoffs two years in a row
- Half-flags fly forever
- The champ is here! Hows that water you assshole! I dont even feel like looking at his rosters. fuck off walsh ( playoff team lock)
- THIS many Freshmen?!? In the year of our lord 2025?!?
- Extremely mid team.
- "Dumpster Fire with Swagger" - I don't know if this was a bold strategy or a cry for help. Your roster looks like an NIL collective assembled it over brunch. You drafted like you thought "FPts" stood for "Fashion Points." Motto: "At least our bench looks good on Instagram."
- The half champ getting no respect in the polls! Walsh was picked 10th in last year's poll and won half of it all. I don't dislike the freshmen heavy strategy, I just didn't like the freshmen he picked.

POLL COMMENTS FROM THE LEAGUE

MIDDLE DIVISION

NATURE BOYS

- They could have ten first round keepers and still wouldn't win it all.
- Jacob with 5 first-round keepers almost guarantees him a bye. I predict he breaks through and wins it all.
- Five R1 keepers -> playoff lock.
- 5 First round keepers is just ridiculous. We will see how many of them are healthy come March.
- Excited to watch Mirkovic but worried about the actual net production.
- I'm taking odds on which first rounder is the first released or on the IR
- A title contender if Jacob doesn't drop all 18 by Christmas
- Seen this story before 13 games over .500 and lose in the Semis.
- Dong man in the 5th round is an absolute STEAL!
- There a little too much UK in the monitor here but the “pieces are in place” for the claims king.
- “The NPR of Fantasy Teams” - Your draft was so middle-of-the-road that traffic cones could've finished it for you. Nothing bad, nothing great — just aggressively fine. If this team were a meal, it'd be a room-temperature ham sandwich. “Consistency is the enemy of excitement.”
- Jacob could have 10 first rounder keepers and he'd still find way to never be satisfied. If Jacob can resist his heilicser impulse to drop his draft picks immediately after they have one mediocre game, this will likely be a title contender. Trust your draft research, Jacob!

KNUCKIN & BUCKIN

- Bill's love for Kasean Pryor is quite impressive.
- Good on Bill to take Yax instead of a freshman. Sucks that the freshmen are so good that he might regret it.
- Big time test of exhibition monitoring with Steinbach and Roy.
- I don't get Bill's obsession with Kasean Pryor, he stiiiiinks!
- Love the infrastructure and base with Yaxel and feel good about the depth here that I think makes them a playoff team.
- Does CBBF follow up the greatest final of all time with K&B ending the drought? Very real chance with this roster
- High floor and low ceiling for this group. Good thing Bill has a line on some railings.
- This is the year I can feel it. His 2 Michigan guys are gonna avg 20 easy. Congrats on the champ Bill you finally did it.
- This is the year. Take us home, Yax Man
- The Yaxman was not the move at #1. Bill will struggle to get back to the middle.
- "The Spreadsheet Ran Out of Formulas" - Started strong, ended like a drunk auctioneer. You drafted a few solid mid-round steals, then just picked names that sounded familiar. Drafted like your Wi-Fi cut out after round seven. Motto: "We're saving our energy for 2026."
- I worry that this feels like every other Bill team. As much as I'm pulling for him to break through...I don't know if this is the team to do it. I think Yax was a great pick at 1 even if some of freshmen are going to be supernovas.

POLL COMMENTS FROM THE LEAGUE

MIDDLE DIVISION

TOTINOS PIZZA ROLLS

- Mast was a sneaky awesome draft pick.
- Freshmen guards are scary, but Peterson seems to be incredible. Brown on the other hand..
- Birk can't believe he had a good draft.
- I'm optimistic about my team. I think we will be a lower end playoff team like usual, and maybe, just maybe, we will get lucky in the playoffs!
- Several swing guys on this squad but exhibition for Bradley bumped them up for me.
- Apparently now that he's off Bumble he's got time for researching CBBF.
- Who is the best bocce player on this team? Nick Davidson?
- fucking asshole fuck you! ( loved the draft playoff lock)
- Plenty of capable guards, but I don't think there are 4 F/C starters on this roster.
- I really like the good Doctor's team, Mast and Freeman could be great. But it's Bork he's going to be on the cut line all year. The man loves living on the edge.
- "Autodraft Energy" -This team screams "showed up 10 minutes late and drafted off vibes." Half your roster will be waiver fodder by Thanksgiving. You drafted like the app froze halfway through round four. Motto: "Who needs a plan when you have chaos?"
- I really hope Mast isn't awesome. I debated heavily between he and Veesaar in the second round and I'm afraid I'm going to be disappointed. Birk also sniped Folguerias before I could take him...will be monitoring both he and Mast closely.

POLL COMMENTS FROM THE LEAGUE

MIDDLE DIVISION

1738 BASKETBALL CLUB

- The Ian Jackson pick was shocking and I even like Ian Jackson!
- Bittle is a star, but I'm a little worried about the rest of this team.
- Banks and Mukeba were big time head scratchers.
- Hated a good portion of this draft. Baloney loves (Josh) Dix.
- Guard play will be the key here with big swings early on with the two transfers.
- How long before Bittle finds his way to the trading block?
- A miserable roster surrounding an amazing trade chip.
- Baloney is he here? Baloney you around ??? Great draft i smell a 12th place finish and lowest point total in the league.
- Is Bittle available yet?
- Joe is a great guy, his draft sucked though.
- "Built Different, and You Know It" - This team walked into the draft like it was a tax write-off for domination. Guards? Efficient. Bigs? Productive. Balance? Perfect. You drafted like you hacked the Fantrax algorithm. The rest of the league should just Venmo you their entry fees now. You're not winning because you're smart — you're winning because you have no social life.
- I would watch a documentary on Joe's pre draft strategy. I know it's well thought out...,but the conclusions are not good! Fland and Mitchell were solid but the rest of the picks were poopy. Maybe in this new era of hoops Edey can find more eligibility.

STEAK DINNER, BOOM!!

- You could probably go ahead and release almost 90% of these draft picks except they will still be on the team in February.
- There's no way Brent can be bad with his keepers, but I still can't put him first.
- I'm very proud of Brent for realizing he had a golden opportunity with Toppin and Smith and putting together a great draft to support them.
- Having maybe the 2 best keepers in the league is usually good. I didn't totally hate some of the other picks either. Let's see how Brent can somehow finish dead last again.
- I feel like this squad is more of a good basketball team versus fantasy upside goals.
- Totally squandered good keepers with a very uninspiring draft
- He had one job—don't fuck up. And ... he didn't? Yet?
- He's back! and he's back to the NIT! Unreal rec though on the polish buffet fanfuckingtastic.
- Keeping little Peja was a bit of a head scratcher
- Gonna be a real masterclass to not make the playoffs with this roster.
- Kiss my ass, Proegler!
- "Guards Anonymous" - Every time someone said "best available," you heard "shortest guard." Your frontcourt is softer than Charmin and twice as absorbent. "We don't rebound, we reset."
- Toppin and Smith is the best duo in the league. Brent has a golden opportunity and I thought his draft was better than usual. If he can't make a run with this squad, he may never make another one.

MANTAMAN!

- Nolan Winter is like an AI version of Greg Gard's dream frontcourt player.
- Starting to look like Proegler might regret the decision to keep TKR (and acquiring Gillespie). Especially if Cluff makes TKR worse
- AP is beyond due. Tyson is a big time steal.
- Pretty decent looking squad, just too many teams in the front half of the league that could be similar and I can't rank Proegler over me unless it's truly warranted.
- Floor of this team is very set in stone and was jealous/a pick away from taking many of the picks from Proegler.
- So many upperclassmen, I hear the real strategy is drafting freshmen and pro Euro players
- Couldn't trade TKR, he's too likable.
- This team could surprise i liked the draft start to finish. Proegler like a new man since leaving the great city of Chicago ( playoff team even though I have him 7th because I forgot about his team)
- I have no faith in Hubert correctly utilizing Vessaar.
- "Guards Gone Wild" - You went all-in on backcourt volume like it's 2018 James Harden season. Assists galore, but who's rebounding? Who's defending? Who's adult-supervising this roster? The only boards you're getting are on Reddit. Motto: "Threes > trees."
- The decision to keep TKR may come back to haunt Proegler with the top of this draft class looking excellent. The ghosts of Nick Smith and AJ Hoggard may have left permanent scars.

POLL COMMENTS FROM THE LEAGUE

LAGUNA BEACH ALL STARS

- DJ Wagner and JJ Starling with consecutive picks is a recipe for success.
- I have our co-champs at the bottom of the rankings. Don't love this draft!
- It seems like just yesterday that Z00 took JJ "A Star Is Born" Starling in R1
- I don't really think this roster looks too good, but I have to show some respect to the defending co-champ and not rank him 11th. Even though he is a snothead.
- Cluff is a mystery but could be the skeleton key for this squad.
- This draft is worse than trying to find day laborers outside Home Depot while ICE is around
- It's hard to wear half a ring.
- The champ is here! What a moment what a team what a coach what a legend. He finds a way to make the playoffs even though every one of you assholes thinks his team will suck.
- This sucker took the Oscar Cluff bait!
- He Zigs where we all Zag. This team is bad.
- "The March Madness Merch Table" - This was pure vibes. You drafted whoever popped on your TV last March. Your fantasy ceiling is as low as your scouting effort. Half your roster peaked in an NCAA highlight reel. Motto: "They had a cool run in the tournament, bro."
- No respect! Plenty of bulletin board material for Laguna. Crowdsourcing his entire draft from the Trilly discord was a bold move...I don't think it will pay off.

POLL COMMENTS FROM THE LEAGUE

- Needs Dybantsa to be Michael Beasley minus the drugs
- Don't love the return for Jefferson, but Condon is awesome. It might be hard for Phil to find enough serviceable guards
- Savvy pre-draft trades to land Dybantsa. Tough later picks, though.
- Phil is the best hockey player turned golfer since Happy Gilm-ohmygod!!! Probably not a great team, but we will see.
- Worried about the lack of depth here but hopeful for Keyshawn and this ranking could make me look dumb.
- Gotta be tough drafting during your first 5 minute break of the day while waiting on kids hockey to start
- Dybantsa is going to do so much soaking this winter.
- Put him in the net he could win the national title. Put him as Owner of a cbbf club and enjoy 3rd place in the NIT.
- Chase Ross gunner SZN
- Dybantsa is really good. Still gonna struggle like Buckeye Hoops.
- "Analytics with Anxiety" - editor's note - Phil's chat GPT didn't provide any additional comments besides this incorrect headline for Phil's team.
- With the foots, adult hockey, kids hockey, and 75 direct reports, I worry Phil won't have the time necessary to support AJ Dybantsa in his championship pursuits. I predict he will be traded to Jacob on January 17th.

MOST SURE/LEAST SURE

Most Sure/Least Sure

Most Sure About

- Jacob will make the playoffs and Walsh will not
- Brent's team will be great
- Nick will miss his west coast advantage
- Im most sure that the Dosters will annoy the living fuck out of all of us with Michigan basketball talk
- Im most sure David Barnett will be jealous when Michigan is top 3 in the country and ND is playing a Tuesday Morning game in the 1st week of March
- Im most sure Jacob will have at least 3 injuries and say how he hates the league and wants out.
- Oscar Cluff will be on waivers almost immediately
- Joe's team will struggle. Nick has a juggernaut again. SDB!! will find a way to screw it up. Jakers will make some great claims.
- I think I will still suck again. That goes without saying - Phil

Least Sure About

- If Brent will take advantage of his amazing keepers to become a title contender
- What's going on with all these transfers??? so many!
- If Brent can get out of his own way.
- Least sure- That we're all gonna have fun
- Least sure- That Baloney has any clue that the CBBF league is going on.
- Least sure- That Nate Ament should have gone so high.
- I think Brent did enough to get into the playoffs with his excellent keepers but 🤔
- Who the second best player in the league is.
- Bork decides to complain that he has a ton of points but never wins. The Twins send more ridiculous trade offers to hope I'm too drunk to figure that out.

MICHAEL'S PIZZA BETS

2024- 2025 MICHAEL'S PIZZA BETS

PIZZA BETS RECAP

- Nick bets COB that KJ Lewis has a higher average than Jaden Bradley - COB WINS
- Nick bets Andrew that Boopie Miller has a higher average than Deivon Smith - NICK WINS
- Birk bets Brent that he will get promoted and Brent wont - BIRK WIN
- AD bets Nick that Kalkbrenner and Kam Jones outscore Flagg and Ziegler - COB WINS
- Brent bets AP that SDB!! will finish above Mantaman in the standings. - AP WIN

2025- 2026 MICHAEL'S PIZZA BETS

PIZZA BETS

- Andrew challenges Birk that Cam Boozer will be better than Darryn Peterson
- Andrew challenges Phil that Cam Boozer will be better than AJ Dybantsa
- Nick Challenges COB that Donovan Dent has higher FPPG than Bennett Stirtz
- Birk Challenge Bill that Mikel Brown will average more than Kasean Pryor. (Bill loves Pryor so much I bet he will be willing to accept this bet!)
- COB Challenges AP that Silas Demary will outscore Solo Ball
- Barnett Challenges AP that Sylla has a better avg then Henri Veesaar
- Brent challenges Bill that Boozer will have better FPPG than Yax.
- Brent again challenges Adam that SDB will finish with more points than Mantaman!

PREDICTED PLAYOFF BRACKET

Voting Tidbits:

- A top six ranking in a poll equals a playoff vote unless otherwise specified. Total playoff votes are in parenthesis, I used total votes to determine who advanced from round to round and overall average ranking was the tiebreaker. We received votes from all 12 owners. Barnett provided his own comments so they are not incorporated here.
- Every team received a playoff vote.. Here are the playoff votes for the non playoff teams. K&B (6), P-Rolls (5), APIM (2), 1738 BC (1), Club Tril (1), Laguna (1)
